Says President To Compromise On Bricker Bill

Sen. Knowland and Other Leaders Confer With Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (UP)—Senate Majority Leader William F. Knowland said after a long conference today with President Eisenhower that he thinks Mr. Eisenhower will support a compromise version of the Bricker amendment if certain basic legal questions can be "clarified."

The California and other Republican congressional leaders of the House and Senate spent more than 2 1/2 hours in conference with Mr. Eisenhower.

Knowland said the compromise version of the amendment to limit the treaty-making powers of a President contains one section which raises legal and constitutional questions. This section, which he did not describe, is under study at the Justice and State Departments.

Knowland said he was "encouraged by the prospects" for an agreement on the proposed amendment. But he said study of the new legal questions raised in the compromise might require some time.

Asked how long he thought the Bricker amendment would remain before the Senate, he said it was possible that the Senate might dispose of it this week, but he also cited the possibility that the Senate might be working on it two weeks from now.

Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio), sponsor of the controversial amendment, had announced earlier he would accept the compromise if the White House would.

But administration sources said before the White House meeting that the State and Justice Departments had raised serious objections to some of the language. The main sticking point was reported to be a clause requiring congressional action to give force to executive agreements between the President and foreign nations.

Knowland planned new talks with Senate Democratic leaders and Bricker.

The compromise worked out by GOP and Democratic leaders Friday would strike out the which clause but insert another requiring congressional action before executive agreements—as distinct from treaties—could become law.

"It is satisfactory to me," Bricker said in a radio-television interview Sunday night (NBC "Meet The Press"). The only condition, he added, is that the administration "supports it."

Douglas Asks 'Fair Play' Code

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) today stood solidly behind a joint resolution which would combine Congress' three security investigation committees and establish what he called a "fair play" code for all three.

The three committees, the Government Operations Committee, headed by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), the Internal Security Subcommittee, headed by Sen. William E. Jenner (R-Ind.), and the House Un-American Activities Committee, headed by Rep. Harold Velde (R-Ill.), should be combined into one bi-partisan Senate-House committee to save money, Douglas said.

The Illinois Senator said the three committees spent a total of $720,000 last year, mostly for similar or overlapping investigations.

Douglas said such a "fair play" code was necessary to guarantee that persons justly or unjustly accused in a public hearing would have the right to reply and get his reply "before the public."

Field Withdraws From Republican Race For Representative

Last date for withdrawing from the April primary was Saturday and it was revealed today that one has withdrawn from the Republican representative race.

He is Raymond Field of Carrier Mills, now a member of the Saline County Board of Supervisors.

No candidates withdrew for county office.

There were three late withdrawals for Republican precinct committeemen. They were Dr. W. H. Dean of Carrier Mills Precinct 3, J. Cecil Sullivan of Raleigh 1 and Gilbert Gibbs of Independence.

Court Rules T-H Law Forbids Union, Non-Union Discrimination

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Supreme Court ruled 7-2 today that the Taft-Hartley labor law forbids discrimination by employers between union and non-union workers regardless of the motive for the discrimination.

This important interpretation came in a decision which upheld action by the National Labor Relations Board in three separate cases.

Justice Stanley F. Reed delivered the majority decision. Justices Hugo L. Black and William O. Douglas dissented.

The decision involved a section of the Taft-Hartley law which forbids an employer "to encourage or discourage membership in any labor organization" by discrimination in employment practices. It also involved an allied section which forbids labor unions from "causing" an employer to practice such discrimination.

In two of the cases decided today the court found that the employer discrimination came "upon the instigation of the union."

"The purposes of the unions in causing such discrimination," Reed's opinion said, "were to encourage members to perform obligations or supposed obligations of membership."

"Obviously, the unions would not have invoked such a sanction had they not considered it an effective method of coercing compliance with union obligations or practices," Reed added.

Five Women Injured When Autos Overturn

Five women were injured, one seriously, in two traffic incidents on Route 45 Saturday afternoon.

They were hurt when two automobiles overturned near the Harrisburg and Eldorado within a half hour of each other.

At 4 p. m. four University of Illinois co-eds were injured when their auto overturned near the Harrisburg flood wall and all were released after receiving treatment in Harrisburg.

The driver, Miss Joan Danielson, 19, of Alaska, Ill., lost control of the car, which went down the embankment and overturned. With her were Mary Lou Krempel, 20, of Downers Grove, Ill.; Jerry Gaddy, 21, of Cicero, Ill.; and Phyllis Kennedy, 21, of Danville, Ind.

State Policeman Adolph Sweet reported the four had finished their semester examinations at Champaign Saturday morning and had started on a week's vacation trip to Orlando, Fla.

Sweet reported that Mrs. Vada Hobbs, 49, of Paducah, Ky., was seriously injured at Wagon at 4:30 p. m. when her car ran off the road, hit an abutment and overturned.

She was taken to Ferrell hospital in Eldorado suffering a serious chest and back injuries.

Sweet said the woman apparently became ill at the wheel because she told him following the crash that she remembered nothing after going through Harrisburg. She was en route to Albion to visit a son. Her 1953 automobile was demolished.

Duncan School in Independence is Destroyed by Fire

Duncan school in the western part of Independence township and all its contents were destroyed by fire this morning.

John B. Owens, the teacher, said the fire apparently started from the furnace. He said the janitor had fixed the fire and departed and that when he arrived at the school building around 7:30, smoke was rolling out of the building.

"We lost everything—we didn't get a single book out," Mr. Owens said today.

School directors and parents soon arrived on the scene but it was too late to do anything toward fighting the blaze. However, the group fought fire that spread to surrounding fields.

Today directors were looking for a place for the students to finish the remainder of the term. Mr. Owens said the district, which is No. 54, has some insurance but that he did not know just how far it would go toward replacing the building.

There are 16 pupils at Duncan school.

Infant Dies

Debra Jean Cornett, six months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Cornett of Hardin county, died this morning at the Lightner hospital. The Hosick funeral home in Rosiclare has the body, and funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Dean Flies from Detroit, But Runs Out of Gas

Dean Hill, flying from Detroit, Mich., Sunday afternoon landed in a cornfield near Raleigh when his plane ran out of gas about a half mile from the Harrisburg-Raleigh airport. He completed the flight to the airport after taking gasoline to the plane.

Hill had completed a week's service training at Detroit in automatic transmissions, power steering and power brakes. He flew to Detroit last Sunday and was returning home yesterday, but didn't quite make it to the airport.

Bob Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hill, who recently was discharged from the Air Force after three years' service, has entered the University of Oklahoma at Norman to resume his college studies.

Two Youths Fined In Drive Against Highway Racing

Declaring "we've got to stop this racing on the highways some way," County Judge Ralph W. Chissoer today fined two teenage youths $100 and costs, then gave them suspended jail sentences of five days when they pleaded guilty to charges of reckless driving when arraigned in county court.

The lads, ages 15 and 19, were given tickets yesterday afternoon by State Policeman Adolph Sweet, who saw them racing pickup trucks on Route 45 south and east of Eldorado.

Sweet said they apparently didn't see him parked at the Routes 45-142 intersection when they started out side by side in the Sunday traffic, keeping in that position until they reached the curve at the Little Egypt hotel east of Eldorado, when the older boy took the lead.

"I reached 87 miles an hour in my chase and guess I wouldn't have been able to catch up with them if they hadn't stopped voluntarily at the old Seagraves mine crossing," Sweet said.

Judge Chissoer remarked that this is not the first instance of racing around Eldorado, that he had received complaints from motorists.

"I've received complaints, too," he said, "that they get out there at night and start out side by side, making the cars backfire, and the noise can be heard all over town."

"Some boys have made a regular race track out of the highway and it's dangerous. If they don't kill somebody else one of these days they're going to kill themselves."

"People have a right to drive on the highways without the menace of boys racing automobiles and trucks and I intend to co-operate with our state and local officers to stop it. We've got to stop it some way and I'm going to fine both of you $100 and costs and give you suspended sentences of five days in jail."

Norris City DeMolay Team to Confer Degrees Here Tonight

The Norris City DeMolay degree team will come to Harrisburg tonight to stage the initiatory and DeMolay degrees on about seven candidates for the Harrisburg chapter.

The Norris City group has a reputation of being an outstanding degree team.

All DeMolays, past DeMolays and Masons are invited to the ceremony at the Masonic temple at 7:30 p. m.

Cooper South is adviser of the Norris City chapter and Fred McKenzie advises the chapter in Harrisburg.

Find Man's Body In Ft. Massac Park

METROPOLIS, Ill. (UP)—A group of teen-agers found the remains of a man's body in Fort Massac State Park near here Sunday and authorities said today the remains still were unidentified.

Sheriff's deputies made a house to house check to determine if anyone was missing from the area in which the body was found.

Authorities said the remains consisted mainly of bones which were scattered on a hillside.

Deputy Coroner Herbert Goyert said the remains were of a man but no age was determined.

Leg bones on the bank of a ditch led to discovery of the rest of the body.

35 American Servicemen Die in Crash

Air Force Courier Plane Lands in Icy Waters Off Japan

TOKYO (UP)—A U. S. Air Force courier plane crashed into icy waters off northern Japan today and all 35 persons aboard were killed.

Far East headquarters here said that search planes and Japanese patrol boats discontinued the search for bodies at nightfall about four hours after the crash.

According to Japanese press reports, four bodies were recovered but an Air Force spokesman did not confirm this.

"Our planes found no bodies," he said.

The twin-engine C46 went down in the Tsugaru Strait which separates northernmost Hokkaido Province from the main Japanese island of Honshu.

Early reports from an Air Force amphibian said parachutes could be seen through the light snow, as well as an oil slick.

Japanese ashore said they saw the plane lose altitude rapidly at 1:45 p. m. (11:45 p. m. EST Sunday) after the pilot had flashed a distress message.

The Japanese said they saw parachutes open during the plane's descent.

The oil slick and floating parachutes led the search parties immediately to the scene.

An FEAF spokesman said he believed all of the persons aboard were American servicemen.

The plane was on a routine courier mission from Tachikawa, near Tokyo, to Hokkaido when engine trouble apparently developed and the pilot tried to "ditch" the plane.

H. B. Williams, 83, Dies At His Home in Brushy Township

H. B. Williams, 83, affectionately identified as "Uncle Harry" in the North America and Liberty sections of Brushy township, where he had resided most of his life, died Sunday morning after a long illness at his home.

Funeral services will be conducted from the North America Baptist church Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and burial will be in the Ward cemetery. Rev. Alva Daily, a close friend, will be assisted by Rev. Jess Clarida in conducting the services.

He was a member of the Liberty Methodist church.

He and his surviving wife, Sarah, had lived in the North America and Liberty areas during their 49 years of married life except for short periods in the Ingram Hill and Dorrisville areas. He was engaged generally in farming and labor, including rough stone work.

He was born near Lebanon, Tenn., August 1, 1870, but came to this section when a child, as a member of a large family.

Mrs. John Small of Harrisburg and Joe Williams of Pittsburg RFD are the surviving sister and brother.

Three children, six grandchildren and three great-grandchildren survive. The children and grandchildren are: Mrs. Ora Manier, a daughter by an early marriage, and her children, Farrell and Junior; Marion Lee, a son, residing in Brushy; Mrs. Steve (Mary) Toth and children, Mrs. Bob (Rosalie) Mitchell, John Richard, Betty and Shelby, of Harrisburg.

Sadler and Stearns Purchase Standard Radio Distributors

Purchase of the Standard Radio Distributors, 523 West Poplar St., Harrisburg, is announced by Stearns & Sadler.

The firm, composed of Kallie Sadler of Harrisburg and Howard Stearns of Eldorado, operates the Stearns & Sadler glass company in Eldorado, featuring glass products, including store fronts of glass composition. This operation at Eldorado will be continued.

Bill Gall, who has been owner of Standard Radio Distributors, has accepted employment with O'Keefe Distributing Co. of Carrier Mills as manager of their television service department.

Plans of the new owners of Standard Radio Distributors is to convert to a strictly wholesale establishment, handling radio and television tubes, rotors, antennae, condensors, transformers, etc., strictly for dealers and especially TV service establishments in the area.

This is a new field for this area, and one for which there is an apparent need, and will be another business establishment for Harrisburg to add to this already important trading center for this area of southeastern Illinois.

Molotov Asks 'Neutralized' Germany; Would Make Nation a Soviet Satellite

BERLIN (UP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov in a major speech was reported tonight to have asked the Big Four conference to make Germany "neutralized" state barred from any alliance with the West.

Molotov addressed the Big Four foreign ministers for 40 minutes in their first meeting behind the "little Iron Curtain" in East Berlin.

Well-informed sources said Molotov presented a new "Molotov plan" for a united Germany—one which, the West holds, would make all Germany with its 70 million people a Soviet satellite.

Before Molotov spoke the Western Allies appealed to him to accept the European Defense Community Pact, which provides for a German Army aligned with the North Atlantic Pact, as the best means of controlling necessary German rearmament.

Begin Showdown Debate

They appealed to the Soviet Foreign Minister to spell out exactly what he means by "free" German elections, and whether he would agree to hold elections before an all-German government is formed.

Today marked the beginning of a showdown debate on German unity. The issue was whether a united Germany should be a free ally of the West or a powerful Red satellite.

After meeting for the first week of their conference in West Berlin, the foreign ministers moved across the city dividing line to the huge, ornate Soviet embassy for the second week's sessions.

Before today's session started, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault decided to ask for secret sessions on the German problem.

Seek Free Elections

They were determined to seek a showdown on the issue, in which West and East are sharply divided.

The Western powers are unalterably committed to making free all-German elections the first step toward German unification. The German nation would then be free to join Western defense plans. Russia wants the formation of an all-German government to be the first step, so that East German Communists will be in it and thus be in position to block German alignment with the West. They know they would lose in any free election.

Today's meeting was the first Big Four session held in iron curtain territory since the Moscow foreign ministers meeting seven years ago.

The Western Allies moved into Communist East Berlin to hear Russian Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov's reply to the suave Eden's Western-backed proposal for unifying divided Germany.

Conferences were in progress among officials of the three services and the Defense Department on ways to merge separate schools for Negro and white children with the least possible turmoil.

Schools on a number of southern and "border state" posts are now run on a segregated basis by state or local school boards. If these boards are unable to run nonsegregated schools, the U. S. Office of Education has agreed to run them itself without racial separation.

However, some officials think some state or local agencies will agree to run the schools without segregation—perhaps as "agents" for the federal government—rather than lose the federal funds they now collect for the post schools.

Applies to 21 Bases

Wilson's order, dated Jan. 12, forbids establishment of any new segregated schools on military bases. In addition it requires elimination of segregation in all existing post schools by the 1955 fall term.

Official documents said the order was intended to apply to 21 Army, Navy and Air Force bases in Alabama, Arkansas, South Carolina, Texas and Virginia.

But officers on some of the posts named said segregation had been abolished at their schools for some time.

Some local school officials, in states with laws requiring segregated education, said they will have to quit running the post schools if the Wilson order is carried out.

It was understood President Eisenhower personally supported the Wilson order after turning down a plea for delay by Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary of health, education and welfare.

The President last year announced the ending of segregation in federally owned schools on military posts, and said there would be legal, moral or logical justification for discrimination in use of federal funds.

John Hayes, 71, Dies Following Auto Injuries

John Hayes, 71, resident of Harrisburg living at 404 East Ford street, died Saturday night in a St. Louis hospital from injuries received in an auto accident which occurred early Thursday near Norris City.

He was a retired railroader having worked 33 years for the New York Central. He was the son of late Whit and Sarah Hayes and had lived in Harrisburg most of his life.

He is survived by his wife, Halie, a daughter, Mrs. Nellie Hughes, Detroit, Mich., and a son, John C. Hayes of Harrisburg. He is also survived by two grandchildren, Judith Ann and John Robert Hayes, and one brother, Eugene Hayes of Metropolis.

The funeral will be in the chapel of the Harrisburg funeral home, probably Wednesday at 2 p. m. Rev. Glen Daugherty, pastor of the First Christian church, will officiate, and burial will be in Sunset Lawn cemetery.

Sabres Scatter Formation of Red Fighters

Attack on American Plane Revealed Over International Waters

WASHINGTON (UP)—A large formation of MIG15s attacked an American reconnaissance plane off the Korean coast Jan. 22, but an accompanying force of U. S. Sabrejets scattered the Red fighters and shot down one of them, it was disclosed today.

None of the American aircraft was lost in the incident, which the Air Force said occurred "over international waters."

The Air Force did not give the nationality of the MIGs. They are Russian-built, however, and presumably were based in North Korea. Experts said they could have been piloted by Chinese, North Koreans, or even Russians.

It marked the first time U. S. airmen have scored a kill in the long string of "incidents" in which the Communists have attacked non-combat American planes. In this case none of the Air Force aircraft was lost.

Plan No Protest

The Air Force reported that the RB45 reconnaissance plane definitely was "over international waters" when it was jumped. But a State Department spokesman said the United States at present is not planning to file a protest.

He pointed out that no American planes were lost and that neither the Chinese nor North Korean Communists had raised the issue. In other incidents, the United States has protested vigorously.

Both the United Nations and the Communists agreed in the Korean armistice not to violate each other's territory or the air above it. But the spokesman said "this does not apply in the present case because the incident occurred over international waters."

Although the incident occurred Jan. 22, the Air Force did not say anything about it until it received an inquiry from the United Press.

PLANE ON DAYLIGHT RECONNAISSANCE OF COASTLINE WHEN ATTACKED

TOKYO (UP)—The RB45 jet bomber attacked by Communist MIGs off northwest Korea Jan. 22 was making a "visual daylight reconnaissance of the coastline," a Far East Air Forces headquarters spokesman said today.

He said the four-jet bomber was flying outside the "contiguous" waters of Communist Korea, which have been declared out of bounds to Allied planes and ships by the armistice agreement.

There is no agreed definition of the width of "contiguous waters." But pilots are briefed to fly out a certain distance, varying from mission to mission, to give the widest latitude to the term, the spokesman said.

Based Near Seoul

"They've got to see for themselves what the situation is in that area," he added. "They must get as close as possible."

A spokesman for Fifth Air Force in Seoul said the jet bomber, which carried a crew of four, was based at an airfield near Seoul. The covering flight of F-86 Sabrejets also was based in South Korea.

The FEAF spokesman said RB45s have been used in "regular FEAF reconnaissance for about a year." Several of the jet bombers were used during the Korean war for night radar reconnaissance near the Yalu river border of Red China.

Sabrejets screen missions whenever they are conducted in areas near known Communist air bases.

49 New Pupils Enroll At Dorrisville School During Month of January

Brose Phillips, principal of the Dorrisville school, stated that during the month of January 49 new pupils were enrolled, and 37 of the 9 were from the housing project.

He stated that as far as the school's records show no families from the Dorrisville district have moved into the housing units; they are all from other school districts, and in one case out of state.

He added that the first, second and third grades were beginning to be rather crowded.

Including today 48 families are now occupying units at the housing project where there are 94 units.

Carbondale Man Killed in crash

CARBONDALE, Ill. (UP)—Truman Pleasant, 57, Carbondale, was killed Saturday night when his car struck a truck parked partially on
U. S. 51 four miles north of here.
State police said the truck driver
was not in the truck at the time of the accident and they did not have a report on his name.
Nin Stankus, 50, Makanda, and Paul Eastwood, 41, Carbondale, passengers in Pleasant's car, were injured. Jackson County Coroner
Ed Knowles set an inquest for Wednesday night.

The ballet had its beginning in Italy during the 15th century.

"That's My Boy!"

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Teamsters Loan $1,000,000 To Biggest Trailer Company; Igor
Gouzenko Is No "Sobersides";
Dirksen Out To Thwart Ex-
Sen. Moody's TV Program.

WASHINGTON. — In Washington, where dining out is one of the major industries, some dinner parties are held with a purpose, some are not. Possibly one in the former category was held the other day by the former president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, Eric Johnson, in honor of the head of the head of the world's largest labor union, Teamster Dave Beck.

The dinner came simultaneously with Beck's loan of $1,000,000 to the biggest trailer company, Fruehauf, and his offer of another $5,
000,000 to New York trucking firms
to install modern equipment along the New York waterfront.

Those who attended the small and very pleasant dinner, and those who have watched Beck's operations with private business wonder if this inaugurates a new era of business-labor cooperation.
Others who know Beck well say that, even as Teamster boss of the northwest, he believed in employer-employee cooperation.

At any rate, guests who turned up at the motion picture headquar- ters of movie czar Johnston
included Chief Justice Earl Warren who knew Beck back in California; Secretary of Health and Welfare Oveta Hobby; Senators
Magnuson and Jackson of Beck's home state, Washington; Congressman Jack Shelley of San Francisco, a member of the Teamsters
Union; most of the congressmen from Washington, together with California congressmen Chet Hollifield and George Miller.

Nothing was said at the dinner
about politics. But after dinner and just before Johnston showed his guests an English film, "Captain's Paradise," he made a little speech about Beck.

"Dave Beck and I don't always agree," he said. "I remember one time I was running for the Senate in Washington state and went to see Mr. Beck for his support. He told me quite honestly that he was committed to support Mon Wallgren, and so naturally he opposed me."

"But though we have differed, I consider Mr. Beck a fine American who is working for the best interests of his country. If everyone else knew Dave Beck as I do
they would have the same admiration for his honor and his honesty."

Guests who listened to this tribute from the ex-president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce recalled another Teamsters' dinner at the Statler hotel when many business leaders jeered at the all-out Teamster support given to Franklin Roosevelt. And one day after the Eric Johnston dinner, guests picked up the paper to see that the same Teamsters union had loaned $1,000,000 to Fruehauf Trailers and offered another $5,000,000
to New York trucking firms.

Remarked one guest: "Moscow would never believe it, even if Malenkov was here to see it in person."

RUSSIAN HUMOR

Igor Gouzenko, the former Soviet code clerk who exposed the amazing secrets of Russia's espionage, is a serious man. Anyone who has experienced what he's experienced would naturally be serious.
But he also has flashes of humor.
After making an appointment to meet this writer at 7 a. m. in a small house whose exact whereabouts I still do not know, Gouzenko himself did not show up until 2:30 p. m.

I had arrived breakfastless
while it was still dark, sat, chafed, paced the floor all morning and part of the early afternoon. Finally, Gouzenko arrived.
"Dobro youtro," I said in my best Russian, meaning "good morning."
"Dobro vechir," he replied in

Russian, then added in English
with a smile: "It's evening now,
not morning."

DIRKSEN BOYCOTT

It was meant for GOP ears only
but Illinois' suave, savvy Sen.
Everett Dirksen has urged Republican senators to boycott the television program of their former colleague, ex-Sen. Blair Moody of Michigan.

Dirksen is worried that Moody
may run as the Democratic candidate against white-maned Sen.
Homer Ferguson in Michigan and doesn't want Republicans to help build up Moody by appearing on his television program. So, behind the closed doors of the Senate Policy committee, he told Republican colleagues that Moody's program is "slanted," and urged them to boycott it. New Jersey's professorish Sen. Alex Smith immediately jumped up to agree. He had appeared on the program once,
he complained, and felt that Moody
had peppered him with a lot of tough questions.

Note — Despite Dirksen's plea, Republicans continue appearing regularly on the Moody show. They state that Moody, who covered Washington politics for the Detroit
News for 20 years so objectively that few people knew he was a Democrat, is one of the fairest moderators in television.

WASHINGTON WHIRL

Kansas' modest Sen. Frank Carlson, the President's favorite,
received personal birthday messages last week from both Ike and Mamie. But the one that delighted him the most was a scrawled note from the President's mother-in-law, Mrs. John Doud. As one Swede to another, Mrs. Doud wrote: "Halsningar I Mand", which is Swedish for "many greetings."

Ohio's white-maned

Sen. John Bricker is so stuck on his treaty-limiting amendment that he has privately served notice
he'll reintroduce it every year until it passes. Inside fact is that the most hamstringing features of the Bricker amendment were not written by Bricker but by Utah's moody Sen. Arthur Watkins.
Ironically, Watkins professes to believe that the U. S. Constitution, which he is seeking to sabotage,
was divinely inspired.

The New York Times' ace Capital correspondent, William S. White, has written the epic, untold story of the late Senator Taft's life. It is a brilliant piece of reporting, soon to be published in book form as
"The Taft Story." Ever since Taft's death, his old guard followers have been growing increasingly restive until now they are fairly seething with discontent. They have been writing amazing letters to each other, accusing President Eisenhower of selling out to the New Deal and wrecking the Republican party. However, they blame the "man on Ike's shoulder," Gov. Tom Dewey, more than the President himself. In desperation, these old guard Republicans are trying to drum up a meeting of the GOP national committee, in the hope they can take control away from Chairman Len Hall, a Dewey man.

Gershwin's Musical 'Porgy and Bess' At St. Louis Feb. 8

Bearing accolades from four European capitals and the unanimous approbation of New York's critics and public, the Blevins Davis-Robert Breen production of "Porgy and Bess" opens a two-week engagement at the American Theatre, St. Louis, on Monday evening, Feb. 8.

"Porgy and Bess," with music
by George Gershwin, libretto by DuBose Heyward, lyrics by Mr.
Heyward and Ira Gershwin, was founded on the play by Dorothy and DuBose Heyward which was derived from Mr. Heyward's novel,
"Porgy." The story of life, love,
humor and tragedy among the Negroes of Catfish Row in Charleston,
S. C., features such enduring Gershwin melodies as "Summertime," "A Woman Is a Sometime Thing," "I Got Plenty o' Nuttin',"
"It Ain't Necessarily So" and
"Bess, You Is My Woman Now."

Featured in the production coming to St. Louis is Cab Calloway as that evil living purveyor of happy dust, Sportin' Life. Other leading players are LeVern Hutcherson and Leslie Scott, alternating as Porgy; Leontyne Price and Elizabeth Foster alternating as Bess;
Georgia Burke, Helen Thigpen
and John McCurry. Co-producer
Robert Breen directed the production which has settings by Wolfgang Roth and costumes by Jed Mace.

In this production Cab Calloway is seen for the first time as Sport-in' Life, a role written for him by Heyward. Other commitments prevented him from playing the part prior to this occasion.

The St. Louis engagement is for two weeks at the American Theatre opening Monday evening,
Feb. 8. Performances will be given on Sunday, Feb. 9, and Tuesday,
Feb. 10, and Saturday, Feb. 13 and 20.

We are pleased to welcome Luke Stuart home from Germany where he has been stationed in the U. S.
Army. He and his mother, Mrs.
Ira Adams, and his sister, Sue, are spending the week visiting relatives in Missouri and Arkansas.

Mrs. George C. Guard was a business visitor in Evansville, Ind., Monday.

Those from the local charge attending the leadership training school held at the First Methodist church in Eldorado Monday night
were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Prather,
Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hale, Mesdames B. D. Barnett, Kenneth Berry, Virgil Alvey, W. A. Barnett, Ira
Adams, Lona Crayne, Miss Margery
Brannon and Rev. and Mrs. W. R.
Warner and daughter. The school which was considered most worthwhile by all will be continued for the next two Monday evenings.

The Alpha circle of the Presbyterian Woman's Missionary society
met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bob Barnett. The devotion, a study of the Book of Acts, was given by Mrs. William Williams and the lesson based on the mission book "Within These Borders"
was led by Mrs. Nel Smith. Following the meeting the hostess served delicious refreshments of angel food cake, fresh strawberries and coffee. Those attending were Mesdames David Beverley, M. Q. Maas, Anna Duvall, Bertha McIntyre, Alta McLain, F. E. Smith, Gertrude Womac, William Williams, I. E.
White, and the hostess Mrs. Barnett.

Mrs. Ira Adams is enjoying a vacation and fishing trip in Florida.
Fred Prather is in the Lightner hospital where he underwent minor surgery Wednesday morning.

A household shower was given to
Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Allen Wednesday night in the basement of the Methodist church. The entire town united in the shower of useful gifts for the couple whose house and furnishings were completely destroyed by fire last week.

The Fidelis circle of the Presbyterian Woman's Missionary society
met at the home of Mrs. David Sanks Wednesday afternoon. Those attending were Mesdames Mattie Sanks, J. D. Bullard, William Davenport, Raymond Grider, Ted Moore, Edith Sanks, Walter Sutton
and the hostess, Mrs. Sanks. Mrs.
Grater led the devotion, and Mrs.
Mattie Sanks gave the mission lesson "Where'er the Sun". Delicious refreshments of ice box cake and coffee were served.

Northwestern University Observes Its 103rd Anniversary

EVANSTON, Ill. (UP)—Northwestern University observed its 103rd birthday Sunday in a ceremony marked by a speech by Gov.
William Stratton and the laying of a cornerstone for a three-million-dollar classroom building.

The Kresge Foundation provided half of the amount for the new building, which will house offices and laboratories in addition to classrooms.

Stratton praised the university for reaching the goals set by the founders of the school 103 years ago.

The school's president, Dr. Roscoe Miller, lighted a 100-year candle as part of the traditional ceremonies.

PRAYER

Prayer is often like a spiritual sugar bowl, to make life sweeter.

Much prayer can smooth out the rough places in life and cause the going to become smooth. Prayer makes your burdens lighter.

If your prayer time runs short,
your lifetime may run short. It's not how good a prayer you pray,
it's how long a prayer you pray
that counts most.

Prayer is a simple way of getting out of difficulty.

If you pray for yourself you haven't much to pray about, but if you pray for others, you have the whole world to pray about.

The world's full of people who know how to talk to man but they don't know how to talk to God.

Not to be prayed up to is to be run down spiritually.

Your home is worth praying for.
Prayer is one of the greatest protections for your home. Much prayer in your home really makes it home sweet home.

Much prayer can take you out of the humdrum things of life and put you on a spiritual band wagon
that will cause you to shout Hallelujah!

They who don't pray become losers because they lose out on so many good things from God by not praying.

Your joy life depends much upon your prayer life.

The first few times you pray,
the heavens may seem like brass,
but after you continue praying
more times, the heavens will soon
turn to gold.

A Christian is not ready for bed
until after he or she has prayed.
He who jumps into bed without praying, jumps into a spiritually cold bed.

You should not only tell others
good night, but you should ask God to give you a good night.

Christians who don't pray much are unsocial with God. Prayer is not a ritual, it's fellowship with God.

Food that is not prayed over is unsanctified food. Food may be washed until it's clean naturally,
but it's not clean spiritually until it's prayed over. I Timothy 4:5.
"For it is sanctified by the word of God and prayer."

If more people said grace or prayed over their food before they ate it, fewer of them would have stomach trouble. I believe the reason why so many folks have stomach trouble is because they don't say grace over their food
before they eat. They sit down and eat their food like a dog, and a lot of them get as sick as a dog
after they eat.

Prayer should not be a last resort, it should be a first resort.
Never underestimate the value of prayer. Prayer is often the difference between success and failure — the difference between victory and defeat.

Prayer can change situations
that are against you into your favor.

Prayer is a secret weapon for a Christian to use against the powers of darkness.

Don't worry about things, pray
about them.

Daily prayer brings daily blessings from God; weekly prayer
brings weekly blessings from God.
The longer the time between your prayers, the longer the time between your blessings from the prayers.

Prayer is a spiritual eye opener
to the things of God. A Christian who doesn't know how to pray is like a spiritual baby who doesn't know how to talk to his father yet.

Prayer puts you in the spiritual condition where you can get things from God that you could not get otherwise.

Those who say they don't have time to pray mean they won't take time to pray.

Prayer is wonderful. The Bible says, James 5:13, "The prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up."

If you come to Christ who arose,
your life will blossom like a rose.

The cross of Christ is the only way across from darkness into light.

An outburst of praise is like an atomic bomb that drives the forces of evil away.

every day because He is healing
my body. When I first wrote you,
I couldn't even see, but thank God,
my eyesight is back completely,
and I am able to do everything
for myself and children."

MASSILLON, OHIO, D. Re-joices: "I am getting so good that I feel I never have been sick, and can walk perfect. No one would ever know I ever had a stroke.
My blood pressure is coming down and I am fine, and I give the thanks all to God and you people alone."

CENTERTVILLE, ALA., MRS. S.
Attestes: "Jesus has healed
my ankles and legs. I suffered with vein ulcers ever since 1941,
and all I did didn't do any good at all. I won't ever forget you."

ATHENS, OHIO, MRS. T. P.
Affirms: "Since I wrote for you prayer, my leg has healed, and I have no pain. This has been the first time I have been without pain
since June 1951."

Jane Hobson Adds Personal Charm to Musical Performance in Concert Here

By JOHN SCHORK

HHS Vocal Music Supervisor
The Harrisburg Community Concert Ass'n presented the second of the season's programs Sunday afternoon in Bonnell gymnasium. Jane Hobson, tall and beautiful young mezzo-soprano, was a treat to the eye as well as to the ear. Her personal charm added appreciably to a musically distinguished performance. Harrisburg audiences have heard some of the finest young singers in the country during our six seasons of concerts. Miss Hobson ranks with the best of them.

One is immediately impressed by the natural beauty of the Hobson voice, but even more by the intelligence, the musicianship and the artistic taste with which the singer projects the voice and the essence of song. Hers is a voice of rich and beautiful coloring throughout wide range. It flows with warmth and freedom and is capable of widely varied degrees of power, from a melting mezza voce to a full ringing forte.

The program opened with three minor operatic arias from "Mignon," "The Marriage of Figaro" and "Carmen," sung somewhat deliberately but interpreted with intelligent feeling for style and mood. The group of folk songs which followed won the audience completely with the appropriate simlicity and charming sincerity of their presentation.

As her major operatic offering, the high point of the afternoon, Miss Hobson sang "Il est doux; il est bon" from Herodiade. Perfection of dynamic control, beautiful phrasing and tonal coloring made a decided impression.

The post-intermission portion of the program included a group of lieder, chosen with a nice sense of variation of mood. Schubert's hauntingly beautiful "Nacht und Traume" and Erich Wolf's setting of "Alle Dinge haben Sprache" received exceptional treatment. The closing group of songs in plain "American" was distinguished chiefly by a thrilling performance of Gian Carlo Menotti's "The Hero," and immensely moving song by this brilliant contemporary composer.

Louis H. Kohnop was a skillful accompanist, providing tasteful, well modulated assistance at the piano and conjuring a surprisingly fine solo performance from an inadequate instrument.

205 Persons Registered at Home Bureau Exhibit

Thursday and Friday, Jan. 28 and 29, 205 persons registered at the exhibit of articles that had been made in Home Bureau. The display was held in the council room of the city hall.

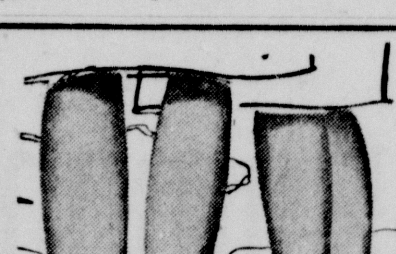

The exhibit was held in an effort to gain new members, to teach what Home Bureau is, and to show the relation between Home Bureau and 4-H club work.

All of last week was declared Home Bureau week, the first of this kind in Saline county.

Some of the exhibits were done in the Handicraft club and some were made in Home Bureau. In order for a person to join a Handicraft club, she must first be a member of a Home Bureau unit. There are nine craft clubs and 24 Home Bureau units in Saline county.

Door prizes were given both Thursday and Friday at the exhibit. Thursday's winners were Mrs. Noble Williams, Mrs. Elizabeth Noakes, Mrs. Maggie Wise, Mrs. Jesse Horton, Mrs. Pauline Wilkins, Mrs. Stella Vance and Mrs. Pat Gilley. Friday's winners were Mrs. Joe Harris, Mrs. Guy Hargett, Mrs. Beulah Bishop, C. C. Porter, Mrs. Minnie Mosby, Mrs. Jennie Prather, Mrs. Wilma Irvin, Mrs. Florence Parks and Mrs. Margie Young.

Presbyterian Women's Circles Meet with Respective Hostesses

The Women's circles of the Presbyterian church met Wednesday, Jan. 27, with the respective hostesses.

The Sarah Wiedemann circle met with Mrs. Bruce Polk. The year book of prayer devotion was given by Mrs. Paul Halbersleben, and Bible studies were taken from the introduction to the book of Acts by Mrs. John P. Emig. The social education and action program was given by Mrs. Louie Gaskins.

The Carrie Wilson circle met with Mrs. Louis Kato. The year book of prayer was presented by Mrs. LeRoy Reese. Bible study was given by Mrs. J. M. Burley, and Mrs. Harold James, guest speaker from the Alpha circle, was in charge of the social education and action program.

Mrs. Ownley Furman was hostess to the Nelia Gregg circle. Miss Grace Collier gave the year book of prayer devotion, and Mrs. Walter Coulter was in charge of the Bible studies. The social education and action program was given by Mrs. Herman Boatright, guest speaker from the Alpha circle.

The Mary Seten circle met with Mrs. Oscar Hanning, who gave the year book of prayer devotion. The Bible study was given by Mrs. Perry Moore, and the social education and action program was under the direction of Mrs. Nelle Meyers, guest speaker from the Lenore circle.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meetings by the hostesses.

Edward Holloway entered Welborn Memorial hospital, Evansville, Ind., Friday for treatment and will be there approximately a week. His room number is 222.

V. F. W. Auxiliary Has District President as Guest

The V. F. W. Auxiliary met recently at the V. F. W. home for its regular business meeting.

The president, Naida Potts, introduced Mrs. Marion Sandefur, tenth district president, and Mrs. Margaret Warner as special guests. This was Mrs. Sandefur's official inspection trip to the auxiliary.

Mrs. Earl Booten was appointed bond chairman and Mrs. John Wagner was named community service chairman.

The president reminded the auxiliary that the 1954 dues were to be paid now, and that delinquent dues should be collected. She named Mrs. Leo Jones, Mrs. Everett Wolfe and Mrs. John Wagner to serve with her on the delinquent dues committee.

After the business was concluded, chicken salad sandwiches and coffee were served by Mrs. Charles Wilson and Mrs. William Farley.

Mrs. Lucile Greene, Carrol Gates Wed in Michigan

In a 7 o'clock ceremony Saturday, Jan. 16, Mrs. Lucile Greene, Pontiac, Mich., and Carrol Gates, son of Mrs. Fannie Gates, 1527 South McKinley street, were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ferdon, on Summit street in Michigan.

The attendants for the bride were her daughters, Mrs. Hellen Spitzes and Miss Norma Greene. Frank Scott, friend of the bridegroom and Earl L. Moore, brother of the bride, served as the bridegroom's attendants.

Among those attending the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Koch, Mr. and Mrs. Oral Womack, Mr. and Mrs. George Irvin, Mr. and Mrs. William Seets and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson, all former residents of Harrisburg.

Mrs. Winnie Price Hostess To Baptist Queen Esther Class

The Queen Esther Sunday school class of the First Baptist church met at the home of Mrs. Winnie Price, West Logan street, for the class party.

The meeting opened with the group singing the class song, "Living for Jesus." Mrs. Paul Hays gave the scripture reading and closed with prayer.

After the business meeting the devotion was given by Mrs. Charles Mitchell on the book of Psalms. Following this the guests were entertained with games and prizes were won by Mrs. Hays and Mrs. Kenneth Roberts.

Others present were Mrs. Stella McNulty, Mrs. Chester Thomas, Mrs. William Roberts, Mrs. Paul Lee, Mrs. Herman Davis, Mrs. Ed Cole and Mrs. David Cox.

Mrs. Roscoe Cook Entertains Friends With Potluck

Several friends enjoyed a day of visiting and a potluck served at noon at the home of Mrs. Roscoe Cook Thursday, Jan. 28.

Those present were Mrs. Ed Schwartz, Mrs. Carl Potts, Mrs. Eva Wilson, Mrs. Elizabeth Noakes, Mrs. Elizabeth Hindmarsh, Mrs. Gene Humphrey, Mrs. Leo Jones, Mrs. Bud Fink and daughter, Rocky, Mrs. Charles Shanks, Mrs. Stanley Medley and the hostess.

Eisenhower and Wife Attend Catholic Mass

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower Sunday became the first chief executive ever to attend Red Mass, the ancient Roman Catholic service for the legal profession.

President and Mrs. Eisenhower joined scores of top government and diplomatic officials in celebrating the Mass at St. Matthews Cathedral here. The most Rev. Archbishop Patrick J. O'Boyle of the archdiocese of Washington conducted the colorful services.

It was the first time that Mr. Eisenhower, a Presbyterian, attended a Catholic Church service since taking office a year ago.

ICC Witnesses Claim CIPS Rate Boosts Needed

SPRINGFIELD (UP)—Illinois Commerce Commission witnesses today vouched for most of the company's figures in the $4,260,000 electric service rate increase case of Central Illinois Public Service Co.

The 12.3 per cent increase would effect 187,000 residential customers as well as hundreds of commercial users in 516 cities and towns.

Shumway J. Bird, Springfield certified public accountant testifying for the ICC, said he found the company's original cost study and original costs exhibits in accordance with standard accounting procedure.

Edgar L. Peck, ICC accountant, testified on his study of CIPS revenue and expenses. Peck said the company took in $32,045,393 in 1952, and $36,100,863 in 1953.

Peck said the increased revenue was largely accounted for by an additional $2,500,000 worth of power bought by the Atomic Energy Commission for its Joppla power plant in 1953.

Peck said company operating expenditures also showed an increase in 1953. He said he found the company operating accounts in proper order.

S. W. Foster, ICC engineer, said he and his staff examined CIPS' property and found all company estimates of depreciation and reproduction cost fair with one exception—overhead conductors and devices.

Foster said he lowered the reproduction cost estimate of this item from 14-million dollars to 12-million, dropping total plant reproduction cost from 171-million to 169-million.

RECEIVES $420,000 Award for Injuries In Railroad Accident
CHICAGO (AP)—A personal injury award of $420,000, largest in U. S. District Court history here, was granted today to a man who lost both legs, an arm, and almost all fingers of his remaining hand in a railroad accident.

A jury awarded the judgment to Isaac O. Maynard, 44, father of five children, against the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad. The railroad announced that it would appeal the decision.

Maynard, who moved here with his family from Dyersburg, Tenn., in 1945, had sued for $700,000. Maynard was injured July 18, 1951, while working as a painter near Madison, Wis.

He and two other men were painting power line towers near the Oscar Mayer packing plant had paused for lunch and were sitting on the rails of a side track when a switch engine shunted two cars down the track. The other men leaped away safely but Maynard was run over.

New Scientific Studies Disclose Earth At Least 4 1/2 Billion Years Old

CHICAGO (AP)—New studies have disclosed the earth and other planets of the solar system are at least 4 1/2 billion years old, it was announced today.

Previously, the earliest date established for the age of the solar system was 2 1/2 billion years.

Four scientists participated in the new research which consisted of analyzing the lead content of meteorites found on the earth's surface.

Samples from the meteorites were studied with a mass spectrometer, an extremely sensitive device for sorting atoms by weight.

Participating in the work were Claire Patterson and Harrison Brown, now with the California Institute of Technology; George Tilton, now with the Carnegie Institution of Washington; and Mark Inghram, associate professor of physics at the University of Chicago.

Work on Established Theory
Their findings were described in "reports," a University of Chicago publication.

Inghram said they worked on the fairly well established theory that the entire solar system including meteorites which have fallen to earth was created at one time in a cosmic explosion.

The scientists studied the proportions of two forms of lead in meteorites—lead 206, resulting from the decay of uranium 238, and lead 207, resulting from the radioactive decay of uranium 235—the type used in the atomic bomb.

In general the amount of lead 207 increases in proportion to the amount of lead 206 because U235 decays faster than U238.

The scientists reasoned conversely from this that the more lead 206 they found in a sample in proportion to lead 207, the older the sample would be.

New Time Scale
Comparing their findings to the ratio of lead and uranium found in earthbound rocks, the scientists were able to estimate the age of the earth at 4 1/2 billion years.

In doing so, they brought the estimate into better agreement with speculations made by astronomers who, from studies of the universe, figured that the solar system was at least four billion years old—and possibly older.

Inghram said that with the new time scale established, similar studies of lead isotopes in granite and basal rocks will reveal the ages of individual rock systems in various parts of the earth.

Believe Benson To Announce Lower Supports on Butter

WASHINGTON (AP)—Many congressmen from dairy states believe Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson will soon announce lower support prices for butter and cheese, effective April 1.

They are not willing to be quoted publicly to that effect for fear they might seem to be endorsing the move.

Lower supports would be expected to produce lower prices for consumers, a smaller dairy "surplus" for the government to buy, and a drop in the income of Midwest dairy farmers.

Government price guarantees to dairy farmers during the past year have required the Agriculture Department to buy up and store 376 million dollars worth of butter, cheddar cheese and powdered milk.

Nevertheless, Midwest Republicans anticipate sharp protests from some dairy farmers if supports are lowered.

Terry Brennan Replaces Leahy As Grid Coach at Notre Dame

Former Irish Grid Star, 25, Signs Three Year Contract

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Terry Brennan was named today to succeed Frank Leahy as Notre Dame football coach.

Brennan, only 25, signed a three-year contract. He joined the Irish coaching staff as freshman coach only this year after four years at Mount Carmel High School in Chicago.

During his tenure at Mount Carmel, his teams were undefeated for three seasons and won an unprecedented three consecutive city championships. Only a week ago he rejected a chance to consider the head coaching job at Marquette.

Announcement of Brennan's appointment was made by the Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, president of the university.

"His success at Mount Carmel in the guidance of young men distinguished him as one of the most promising young coaches in America," statement said.

Quits After 11 Seasons
Leahy's resignation was announced Sunday. He resigned "for reasons of health." He quit after 11 seasons as the Irish coach with a record of 87 wins, 11 defeats and 9 ties.

Brennan was a regular left half.

speculation that he would quit. But at season's end, Leahy said that he planned to continue coaching the Irish "as long as they will have me and my health permits."

Now, he said "Mrs. Leahy and I will go away for six weeks. Four or five doctors I have consulted have told me it will take at least that long for me to re-vitalize myself."

Announcement of Leahy's resignation, with two years remaining in his contract, was made by the Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame.

"Coach Leahy's record . . . rivals even that of the immortal Knute Rockne," he said. "He has distinguished himself as a fine Christian gentleman who represented Notre Dame's ideals to millions of Americans, young and old."

Named Coach of Year Six Times
Leahy, whose lifetime coaching record was 107 wins, 13 losses and 9 ties, said he and Hesburgh agreed that he had best resign because continued coaching would endanger his health.

"Notre Dame means more to me than I can ever express," he said. "Not only because of the opportunities it gave me as a student and later on as athletic director and coach, but because of all the university stands for."

Leahy's last Notre Dame team won 9 games and tied 1 to finish second to Maryland in the national rankings. However, Maryland later lost in a bowl game to Oklahoma, beaten by Notre Dame in its first game of the season.

Six times since he began his coaching career at Boston College in 1929 Leahy has been named coach of the year.

A pessimist who always feared defeat, he also was a perfectionist who insisted upon thorough hard work in practice sessions to run every play without a bobbie.

His Irish teams always improved as the season progressed, and he was widely respected as a coach.

In the past two years his teams were involved in controversy in 1952 because of the "sucker shift" and last year over "false injuries."

But he rivaled Rockne's record at Notre Dame until he quit.

"Cattle" originally was synonymous with "chattel" and denoted merely a form of property, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Leahy Retirement is Loss to College Football, Nation's Coaches Claim

By UNITED PRESS
The nation's coaching greats, headed by Army's Earl Blaik, called Frank Leahy's retirement "a great loss to college football" today and wished the old master of Notre Dame success in future ventures.

"It certainly came as a great surprise to me," said Blaik, whose Army teams were perennial challengers to Notre Dame for national honors. "The college coaching profession has certainly lost one of its most capable and colorful members."

Coach Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma, who with Leahy's retirement now has the best record among active coaches, said Leahy "was one of the great coaches in the history of football."

"His loss leaves a void in our ranks that cannot be filled," Wilkinson stated.

Young to Retire
Coach Stu Holcomb, whose Purdue team ended a 39-game Notre Dame unbeaten streak in 1950, pointed out that Leahy was an unusually young man to retire.

"It's very unfortunate he had to resign so early in his career," Holcomb said. "When I talked with him in Cincinnati recently, I got the impression he planned to continue coaching."

Coach Chalmers Woodward of Southern Methodist, another traditional Notre Dame rival, said

Defeat Eldorado in Finals, 56-44; Galatia Trips Bull Dogs, 91-72

The Carrier Mills Wildcats today held the first place trophy for winning the first annual Saline county basketball tournament.

The Wildcats, playing alert ball and sparked by the sharp-shooting of Oliver Rollins, Ronnie Culbreth and Jim Reeder, topped Eldorado, 56 to 44, Saturday night to take the crown before a roaring crowd that almost filled Davenport gymnasium.

Carrier Mills had beaten Galatia and Eldorado had knocked off Harrisburg Friday night to enter the finals and in a record-smashing tilt for third place that preceded the title affair, Galatia ran to a 91 to 72 victory over the Bull Dogs.

The Bearcats of Galatia saw to it that three Davenport gym records for varsity competition were broken. Their 91 points was the highest scored there. The 163-point total was a new record. And the individual scoring record was broken when both Sammy Duane and Bob Orto of the Bearcats each sent 33 points through the hoop.

Rollins Scores 20 Points
But back to the championship affair.

Carrier Mills, playing the backboards much better than Eldorado did, went into a lead that Eldorado could never overcome. Rollins, the bulky center, was the main reason for the rebounding superiority although Eldorado looked better when Richard Banks, husky substitute, was put into the contest.

Banks, not known for his shooting ability, came through for 15 in this game and that gave him a comfortable margin for Eagle scoring honors.

But Rollins was the big gun on scoring as well as rebounding as he made 20 points. He was followed by Reeder's and Culbreth's eleven each.

Carrier Mills ran up a 13-3 lead in the first period, which ended 13 to 6. But in the second period Eldorado went into a hot streak when trailing 20 to 10 and at halftime went into the shower rooms trailing but 22-18.

Galatia Shows Running Game
Carrier Mills dispelled chances for a close game in the third period when they started connecting with regularity, and the Wildcats went into the last frame with a 40 to 31 lead.

In the last quarter Eldorado moved up to within six points of Carrier Mills at one time, but in the closing minutes the Wildcats put on a surge that gave them a 12-point win.

Galatia showed the fans how a running game should be played and the Bearcat press had the Bull Dogs rocking, especially during the first half. And to run up a 91-point score, the Galatia crew had to be putting the ball through the hoop with uncanny regularity.

They led 21-10 at the quarter, 49-32 at halftime and 72-51 at the end of the third quarter. Orto and Duane easily were high scorers of the game but Ronnie Rieged had a respectable 23 and Dave Anglin 19 points for Harrisburg.

Following the championship affair HTHS Principal Raymond Foster presented the first place trophy to Capt. Ronnie Culbreth of Carrier Mills, the second place trophy to Capt. Rex Long of Eldorado and the third place trophy to Capt. Bob Orto of Galatia.

Fans Well Pleased
One odd thing about the tournament.

Film on World Series At Galatia Tonight

A 40-minute film showing action highlights of the 1953 World Series between the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers, and won by the Yanks, will be presented tonight in the Galatia high school cafeteria. The public is invited to attend.

Oldest World Map
Oldest known map in the world was produced about 4500 years ago. Unearthed in ruins 200 miles north of ancient Babylon, it is a clay tablet, now preserved in the Semitic museum at Harvard University.

The game was tied 32-32 at the half but Pinckneyville jumped to a 50-39 lead at the end of the third period and Centralia couldn't recover. Jim Lazenby led the winners with 24 points, including 18 free throws in 21 attempts.

La Grange, Pinckneyville Win Big Victories Over Elgin and Centralia

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — La Grange and Pinckneyville tamed powerful weekend foes to furnish fresh evidence they'll be top contenders for the 1954 Illinois prep basketball crown.

Bloomington Trinity and Wood River gained new prestige with surprise victories over highly-regarded quintets in other games.

La Grange, defending state champion and ranked top team in down-state Illinois through the season by the United Press board of coaches, pocketed an important 64-57 win Saturday over Elgin.

Elgin had whipped Moline 68-54 Jan. 23. And Moline in turn had nipped La Grange on Dec. 2, the only loss La Grange has suffered in its last 44 games.

La Grange now has a 141 season record, with five games left before the regional tournaments open.

Pinckneyville, rated the No. 3 team in the state, avenged its only loss of the season, a 51-46 decision to Centralia in the finals of the Centralia Holiday tournament.

The Panthers collided with Centralia again Saturday in the title game of the Salem tournament and this time downed the Orphans 70-61.

The game was tied 32-32 at the half but Pinckneyville jumped to a 50-39 lead at the end of the third period and Centralia couldn't recover. Jim Lazenby led the winners with 24 points, including 18 free throws in 21 attempts.

Suggest Pay for Farmers with Land Out of Production

WASHINGTON (AP) — The idea that farmers should be paid to keep land out of production picked up some Democratic support in Congress today.

Rep. Fred Marshall (D-Minn.) announced he is introducing legislation to farmers on land diverted by acreage allotments from surplus crops.

The payments would equal about 25 per cent of the farmer's previous gross return on the land. In exchange, the farmer would have to "improve the fertility" of the soil and hold it out of production so that it would not produce new surpluses of other crops.

Marshall told a reporter some of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson's aides seem to favor a payment system to encourage farmers to keep surplus land out of production. But Benson apparently hasn't yet decided what to recommend to Congress, he said.

Rep. H. Carl Andersen (R-Minn.) recently recommended that the government pay "rent" to farmers for surplus land. "Our approaches are identical," Marshall said. Andersen is chairman and Marshall is a member of the House Appropriations subcommittee handling agriculture funds.

Republicans Plan Record Budget For Elections

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans expect to set aside the biggest off-year budget in their history—perhaps double the $1,900,000 of 1950—to wage this year's crucial election campaign for control of Congress.

The figures are to be presented to party fund-raisers when they meet here late this week to lay campaign plans, honor Abraham Lincoln and kick off the GOP's 100th birthday celebration.

Rising costs of political campaigning, particularly in the field of television, and a firm determination to spare no effort to win next fall are largely responsible for the bigger budget.

Hold Bare Majority

The Republicans can't afford to lose a single seat in this mid-term election. Their House membership has been cut to 219 members, just one more than a bare majority.

In the Senate, they have 47 members to the Democrats' 48. In addition to greater use of television than ever before, the budget contemplates production of motion pictures to show at party rallies and $85,000 for a new publication—"Straight From The Shoulder."

The problem of raising the money for the new budget will be put up to finance committee members at a meeting Thursday and laid before the full national committee when it meets Friday and Saturday.

While the Republicans are gathering in the capital, the Democrats will be concentrating on the "grass roots" with a series of speeches by National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell. He leaves Tuesday on a two-week tour to the West Coast.

Marion Man Dies of Burns

MARION (AP)—William Smothers, 66, a retired coal miner, died here Sunday of burns received when he knocked over a kerosene lamp and was sprayed with burning oil late Friday night during a party in his home.

Authorities said Mr. and Mrs. Charles Calaway were at Smothers' home and Mrs. Calaway told them Smothers fell against a table and upset the lamp. The couple wrapped Smothers in sheets to put out the flames.

Police charged the couple with drunkenness.

THE STORY: Grete Marratt, an escaped convict, apparently has been mistaken for Luke Usher, a young man who disappeared soon after the death of his father Jake near Bella Loma, Ariz., 15 years before. Dr. Frailey, who picked up Marratt, after he had been shot down by an unseen gunman, tells Marratt that "Usher" disappeared after threatening to kill Clyde Ryerson, another rancher, whom Usher accused of killing Jake.

IV

There was a long instant of silence then Frailey said explosively: "Ryerson's outfit covers almost half of this county—goes clear around you. What Wineglass says is same as law in these sandhills; the marshal's his man just as much as Chuck Criffin."

"Must be a comfortable feeling," Marratt observed, and then asked abruptly: "What am I supposed to do about clothes?"

"I took those old rags of yours out and buried them."

"I'll make quite a hit going around in a blanket."

"There's some of your old things hanging in the closet."

"Would you mind fetching a few of them in here? I'll need a pair of boots, too, and a hat while you're at it."

The moment the doctor's back was out of sight Marratt got up and took a look at that picture. He'd been prepared to find a vague likeness in it; a shade of eye, perhaps, a not dissimilar nose. But, staring into that gilt-framed ferrotype, he was almost too astonished to breathe. The pictured face of Jake Usher so closely resembled his own that, except for the sideburns and chin tuft, he might have been looking at a photograph of himself.

He got off weak knees and sagged against the couch's rest. But his mind was made up. There'd be some risk, all right; in fact there'd probably be fireworks—but where better could he hide until the law quit looking than in the clothes and behind the problems Luke Usher had run away from?

Frailey came back with an armful of range clothes which he dumped, with boots and hat, on the couch beside Marratt. "If these don't fit maybe some of Jake's will."

Marratt tried on the boots; a little tight across the sole but he reckoned he could stand it. "How much land have I got here?"

Frailey said testily. "You haven't got an inch without Wineglass says so."

"Never mind that. How much was Jake holding onto?"

"Twenty-four thousand acres."

"How come Wineglass didn't take the spread over?"

"They been using it."

"But the books still show it as owned by Usher?"

"Ryerson likes it better that way; he gets the good of it without so much squawk."

"Then it's legally mine," Marratt said. "Tomorrow—"

"There'll be no tomorrow for you around here. You better take my advice and get out while you're able."

After Frailey departed, Marratt got himself dressed. He had plenty to think about and he gave the bulk of the evening to it.

One thing he probably ought to do right away was to let it be known he'd not returned—in his character of Luke—to make trouble. He was perfectly willing to let sleeping dogs lie and hoped Ryerson might hold a similar conviction.

On the face of such facts as had been supplied by Doc Frailey certainly Ryerson stood to gain the most by getting rid of Luke Usher. Luke's bolt on the heels of his father's death had already given Wineglass 15 crops of Usher grass, not to mention the profitable revenue from 15 crops of abandoned cattle which Ryerson's men had probably branded with impunity. One could not readily imagine Ryerson being willing to abandon the source of such profits.

On the other hand, however if Wineglass had become as powerful as Frailey's talk had indicated, why should Ryerson have tried to put his duck from ambush?

Marratt, scowling into the fire, was uncomfortably aware of the risks he was taking. But better a feud than the steel bars of Yuma. Better the dangers which he saw piled around him than the certainties he'd be facing if he let opportunity's knock go unheeded.

All his thoughts in prison had been concentrated on escape, on getting outside where he could search for Clagg's partner. Now, having escaped and reacquainted himself with liberty, life had become suddenly dear to him again and the likelihood of coming across the man he was hunting almost hopeless. Clagg's partner like Clagg himself—had been a stranger to the country around Prescott. Marratt had no means of knowing where the man had come from and those five years he'd spent at Yuma had not freshened the trail up any.

The description he'd gotten of the fellow's appearance indicated a certain prosperity and his horse had been rigged in the manner of desert travel; beyond this all Marratt had as clues to work with were the few things Charlie had mentioned—that three-fingered hand, an upturned nose and the knife scar across a left temple. Not much to go on with the bounds of the law in full cry all about him.

But if he could stick it out here until the law became engrossed in matters more urgent and he had got himself accepted indisputably as Luke Usher, why then he might be able to go after that guy in earnest.

Suddenly there was a knock at the door.

Roosevelt May Withdraw from Congress Race

LOS ANGELES (AP)—James Roosevelt, who allegedly admitted intimacies with nine women in a letter to his wife, today gave strong indication he was through as a candidate for Congress.

"I have released all my friends and supporters from any further obligation to me in the 26th District congressional campaign," Roosevelt said in a statement.

"I will not present my name to the 26th District Council for endorsement nor will I allow my friends to present it at the Feb. 11 meeting."

Roosevelt had announced last week that he was a candidate for the Democratic nomination in the June primaries. The seat is presently held by Rep. Samuel Yorty, a Democrat, who has announced his intention to run for the Senate.

Roosevelt, however, said his announcement today was not a final decision.

He said: "The filing period doesn't start until March 21, and it doesn't end until April 2, which gives me plenty of time to make a final decision."
